his supporters moved the order of the day approving the government's action.

An order of the day was accepted by the government stigmatizing the occurrence at Autelenii and approving the declarations of the government. It was carried without division after the first part had been adopted by a vote of 513 to 32, and the second part had been voted by 226 to 122.

Prior to the vote being taken, M. Denys Cochin, Conservative, asked that the letter of the government demanding the prosecution of General Mercler should be communicated to the house.

Prosecution of Mercier.

Presecution of Mercier.

The premier replied that it saddened to take the steps deemed necessary, and explained that the trial of M. de Rouiede was not conducted in a seeming manner, instancing the fact that M. de Rouiede was permitted to pronounce a long diatribe against President Loubet in regard to the verdict of the court of carsution, which showed that some persons had incurred responsibility which must be explained.

First there was the case of Du Paty du Clam, and then the communication of the secret documents of the court-martial having been attributed to General Mercier, and the government believed it to be its duty to ask the chamber to say if the prosecution should be undertaken. (Great excitement and applause from Leftists.)

The vote was then taken. A heated discussion afterwards occurred over the prosecution of General Mercier, in the midst of which M. Lasces suggested the impeachment of the promier and violently cutileized those who were "persecuting" General Mercier, which the deputy declared was a maneuvre masse to influence the courtmartial at Rennes.

Finally the chamber voted to adjourn the appointment of the commission of Inquiry late the conduct of General at Rennes.

The Leftists made demands that the verdict of the court of causation be placarded everywhere in France, and M. Cavadgnate had not preceded him to the tribune, which caused the latter to say.

"The cabinet I presided over was unfortunate enough to cause to be placarded a speech centaining mistatements. I ask the chamber to vote the placarding of the verdict of the court of cassation."

of cassation."

The premier did not oppose the placarding of the verdict, which was adopted by a vote of 337 to 212.

The house then adjourned.

The socialist and radical deputies in the lobbies of the chamber cagerly discussed the measures adopted by the cabinet and criticized them as inadequate. They demand the closing of all royalist clubs. The division with reference to General Mercier caused great surprise.

The Republican deputies of all shades of opinion have sent President Loubet an address assuring him of their re-spectful esteem and of their devotion to republican institutions.

Bob was out of doors shortly before sourise this morning, and, with his pet pony, took a dip in the waters off Eath Beach, close to his home and training quarters. At 9:30 o'clock he ate a heartly breakfast, after which he punched the bag for an hour, taking prief periods of rest, He was remarkably supple, and those who watched him work commented favorably on his condition. He took a short walk before luncheon, and after he had partaken of his mid-day meal he essayed to ride the pony. As he sat astride of the animal, the lanky boxer's toes tipped the ground. The puglilist had his trousers rolled up at the bottom. The pony stuck one of his ironshod hind hoofs into the hip around Fitzsimmons right ankle, with the result that Fitzsimmons rolled over in the dust and the pony ran away. Fitzsimmons was unburt.

Twelve Fast Rounds.

Twelve Fast Rounds.

About 3 o'clock the champion donned his lighting togs and boxed twelve fast rounds with "Yank" Kennex, Dan Hickey and Jack Everhardt. The last-named made his first appearance as an opponent to the big fellow today, as hitherto, during the course of his training. Kenney and Hickey have been the only ones to take chances with the only ones to take chances. Then came Everhardt, full of vim and eleverness. Kenney took a turn, and as he is over 210 pounds in weight, he came in for a large share of the damage, as Bob falled to hand him love taps. These three took turns, so that Fitzsimmons boxed first three rounds with each, with a rest of one minute between the rounds. Hickey landed a hard swing on Bob's eye in the tenth, but had to retire for epairs a moment later, when Fitz sent a left smash into his right eye, closing it.

Fitz took a lot of knocks and seemed to like them, as he enduraged his onponents to hit him as hard as possible. All three were badly winded, but Fitz showed no signs of wearying. After being well rubbed down, the champion donned blue sweater and trousers. He then ate a hearty dinner, and as soon as he had satisfied his appetite, took a twelve-mile run, accompanied by wo of his trainers. When the party returned to the house again, Bob went to bed and was sound asheep after 9 o'clock. He said before retiring that he would pursue the same course of training until next Thursday evening.

Jim Jeffries, who is in training at Asbury Park for his fight with Fitz-simmons on Friday, put in a good day's work, and his movements were carefully watched by a number of New York sporting men who went down to the training quarters. They got a good desi of information about Jeffries' condition and cleverness, and returned to New York tonight, very favorably impressed with the Californian's skill and endurance.

Commissioner Herman Refuses to Suspend Reservation Order.

SENATOR BROWN AND JESSE SMITH THE DELEGATES.

Will Go to Washington and Lay the Matter Before the Department-Believe the Order Is An Outrage On the People of Two States-Contributions For the Fight.

The work of the sheep-raisers of Utah

The work of the sheep-raisers of Utah and Wyoming to secure a reversal of the order shutting them out of the Uintah reservation has thus far come to naught, as will be seen by the following Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

"Washington, June 5.—After consultation with the secretary of the interior, Commissioner Herman of the general land office, today decided to refuse the request of the wool-growers of Utah and Wyoming for a modification of his former order prohibiting the grazing of sheep on the Ulntah reservation in Utah."

Chairman James A. Moyle of the finance committee of the Utah Wool-growers association, stated last evening that instead of deterring the sheepmen, this last action at Washington will spur them to greater efforts. They feel that Commissioner Herman is acting in ignorance of the real facts, and that when the case is laid before him in its true light he will still reverse the order.

Delegates to Washington.

Delegates to Washington.

They propose, said Mr. Moyle, to send representatives to Washington to present their case, with ironclad instructions to exhaust every resource to right the wrong, and prevent what they consider an outrage upon the people of the two states named. These representatives have not been formally selected, but it is pretty generally understood they will be Jesse M. Smith of Layton, president of the Utah Wool-growers association, and Senator Arthur Brown of Salt Lake. These are the men most prominently mentioned now and will no doubt be chosen in a few days. The congressman of Wyoming has agreed to add his influence to that of these delegates and as this trio is thoroughly conversant with all the facts, a different face will be put upon the matter after they have laid their side of the case before the officials.

Contributions are coming in rapidly to defray the expenses of this fight. One wool firm in Kansas City sent in $100, another firm here contributed $50. The total is now between $500 and $700. Firms and individuals are preparing letters, resolutions and petitions with which to bombard the commissioner, and if he imagines he has settled the question by his mandate of yesterday, he has yet to learn the temper of the hardy sheep-raisers of this far western country.

A rather remarkable and interesting theory of the reason for Admiral Schley's recent visit to the west was presented last night by R. B. The negotiations of the peace congress at The Hague, whether it is successful or not, will have very little effect upon the business condition of the United States, said H. T. Winter a capitalist of St. Louis, at the Kenyon last night. In plain terms, nearly every one realizes that the congress is a fraud and that it is backed up by humbug. It has no authority whatever, It may pass resolutions and suggest plans of peace, but they will amount to nothing whatever, for it cannot enforce its suggestions."

cannot enforce its suggrations."

"The Milwaukee is one of the most remarkable railroads in the west," said H. C. Wagner, the traveling passenger agent of the road, who is now at the Kenyon. "We own every mile of road operated, and none of the cars used, either sleeping or dining cars, are leased. The road owns them, and they are unequaled in the west. The sleeping cars are larger than those of other roads for we have no tunnels to bother us. When you are traveling on the Milwaukee you don't have to get off at atations to get a drink. It is there for you on the train, and of strobably a much better quality than you would get at the average depot saloon. Another thing, there is no dust on the road, for the track is so covered that no dust can arise."

UNION PACIFIC PLANS.

Big Increase In Equipment Causes Much Speculation.

The immense amount of equi The immense amount of equipment recently ordered by the Union Pacific, together with the activity of the officers of that road, have set railroad men to guessing concerning the future intentions of the company. The company has just received 200 heavy ballast cars, 1,000 freight cars and 300 flat cars, and an order has been given for forty-eight new locomotives of the latest type. Some claim that this equipment is not for the present needs of the company, but that it is to be used on extensions to the line now in contamplation; others say that the increase in business fustifies the larke order. The San Francisco Examiner states that the company will soon build across Nevada from the terminus of the Utah & Pacific to Manuel in California, where the extension will be met by a twenty-five mile connection of the Santa Fe & Pacific. This branch will be gobbled up, says the Examiner, and the Union Pacific will have a short line to California points.

Mrs. R. E. Little, Joseph T. Kingsbury, Moses Thatcher, William W. Riter and Secretary David R. Allen.

The first matter taken up was that of reimbursing the people of Cedar City in part for the money advanced by them to complete the construction of the State Normal school building at that place. The last legislature appropriated $17.000 to be paid these people, and the regents voted to divide this prorata among the contributors, giving them about 55 per cent of the amounts advanced by them. A requisition will be made on the state treasurer for the amount. The people of Cedar City have agreed to calcimine the buildings, finish the painting inside and out, grade the grounds, erect two new outhouses and construct a deck upon the roof.

Mr. Riter reported that the expenses of the committee that went east to inspect college buildings Messrs. Riter, Kingsbury and Kletting—were $7.8.15, and this amount was allowed by the board.

Mr. Seward has taught in both these institutions, as well as in others of losser note, and traveled in Europe to perfect himself in these languages. He won the degrees of A. B., L. B. and Ph. The sand is very scarce and is found here in large quantities and of a good quality. Hundreds of loads have been taken away, thereby disfiguring the grounds. The matter was referred by the board to the building committee for investigation.

Salt Palace Track.

Petitions were out Yesterday and signed quite freely, asking the directors of the Salt Palace association to construct the bicycle track in the grounds, and guranteeing support and patronage in case the petition was granted. A number of prominent business men and contributors to the Salt Palace were among the signers, and everywhere the petitions were circulated expressions favorable to the proposition were heard. One of the solicitors for Salt Palace subscriptions signed the petition and gave it as his opinion that the bicycle track would prove to be one of the strongest features of the palace grounds attractions.

The Social Wheel club holds a regular meeting at the club rooms tomorrow night. A full attendance is requested as among other business the election of a president is on the programme.

POLICE NOTES.

Notices of the reward of $6.000 for the capture of the Union Pacific train-robbers have been posted at the police station. William Keddington and Robert Beach-wood saw booze-clerks galore vesterday, and have faint recollections of two uni-forms, a bell and a wagon.

George O'Brien and William Balley fain would have missed Officer Gillestie's eagle eye at the depot yesterday, but to no good.

higher air."

There is no greater irony than a recommendation of change of climate to those whose circumstances make change of climate impossible. How many a sufferer in such a case has wistfully watched the flight of the south-seeking birds, and cried with the Psalmist, "Oh that I had wirgs." But suppose you can fit the lungs to the climate to the lungs. That is what has been found possible by those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It so parifies the blood, removing the clogged and poisonous conditions favorable to disease, that the whole body is strengthened. With new strength comes new power, and disease is resisted and thrown off.

TAKEN IN. Admit That They Have Committed

Joseph Rausch, aged 11, Willie Sha. gogue, aged 11, and Arthur Moyer, aged 2, were taken into custody by Detective Sheets and Officer Davies yesterday, and at the station confessed to six burgiaries perpetrated planned and artistically executed by them within the past two weeks. The youthful offenders who style themselves "the gang," in every case went after what they could set, and carried away about every portable thing of value, but, as far as known, have derived no benefit beyond that of satisfying a desire to steal. The "steals," they say, were deliberately planned in daily convention assembled at the Knutsford carner, and each of the three claim one of the others is the leader. Shagogue is well known to the police, in whose opinion he is at the bottom of the other two's downfall.

According to their story, the Sait Lake City Soda Water company's factory was the first place entered. They went in through a coal chute and obtained only soda water.

Long service medals are worn by nearly every member of this illustrious band.

Bolton, fifteen years' Life Guardsman, saw service in the Transvaal. He refuses to use other tympani sticks than those of his own make. He was the tympani player at the Royal Italian opera, Covent Garden, and the late Sir Augustus Harris valued his services at the opera very highly. A painting of Bolton on the famous charger "Tominy," presented by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, hangs in the galleries of Windsor Castle, and at Mariborough House. The drums are made of silver, presented by George III, and the weight of the sterling metal can be left to the imagination when it is told that to lift one of them into the horse's back it requires the united strength of two able-bodied men. Bolton was always escorted in the royal processions, and on state occasions, by a corporal major and two corporals of horse.
